NAS CFR App Project Update

January 2025

CFR App Overview

- The CFR App is currently being tested in an offline capacity by a group of 50 community first responders from a number of CFR Schemes and co-responding agencies.
- This group is feeding back valuable information to enable the development team to enhance the user experience and fix any issues that have been identified.
- The app is now on build number 89 and it continues to improve with each release.
- Critical alert push notifications have been introduced for Apple iOS devices that allows incident notifications to bypass the user's silent mode.
- Solutions for Android devices are currently being developed to enhance the delivery of push notifications.
- The development team is currently working with NAS technical teams to integrate the app into the Computer Aided Dispatch System (CAD) at the National Emergency Operations Centre (NEOC).
- The project is on track and will be available in all Apple and Android app stores in the coming months.
